Waste Strategy Public Consultation

The City of Toronto's Solid Waste Management Services is undertaking the development of a Long Term Waste Management Strategy (Waste Strategy) to guide decision making on how the City's waste will be managed over the next 30 to 50 years. The Draft Waste Strategy is now complete and was approved at the Public Works and Infrastructure Committee meeting on Tuesday March 1, 2016.

This final phase of the Waste Strategy is pivotal. You are invited to attend upcoming public consultation events. The feedback received through March & April 2016 will help shape the final Waste Strategy that will be presented to Public Works and Infrastructure Committee in June 2016 and City Council in July 2016.

Consultation will take place starting March 29, and through online survey (survey available from March 29 – April 27, 2016 at www.toronto.ca/wastestrategy). Please register via Eventbrite for the consultation events: <http://torontowastestrategy.eventbrite.com>
